PROCURRI INKS GLOBAL EMC DISTRIBUTOR AGREEMENT FOR HBA PRODUCTS

Global distribution agreement provides end-to-end IT infrastructure services in 80 countries; expands Procurri's range of hardware to its global customers

Singapore, 5 October 2015 – Procurri, the global independent distributor of data centre equipment and multi-vendor maintenance provider, today announced that it has signed a global distribution agreement with EMC Corporation. Through this global agreement, Procurri will distribute and market EMC's Host Bus Adaptors (HBA) product line across 80 countries in Asia Pacific, Americas, Europe, Middle East and Africa regions, offering Value-Added Resellers (VARs), Managed Services Providers (MSPs) and hardware brokers the best-of-breed HBA products from Avago-Emulex, ATTO and Qlogic.

Beyond order fulfilment, Procurri will also be responsible for logistics, providing level 1 and 2 hardware support, as well as management of non-functioning equipment and return merchandise as part of the agreement. Warranties and other support services such as maintenance will also be supported by the company, enabling Procurri to offer end-to-end IT infrastructure services to the enterprise channel community.

Art Prutsalis, Global Alliances, Procurri said: "We are delighted to be authorized by EMC to offer the HBA product to our global customer base. It is our expertise, speed and strength in supply chain logistics and the ability to provide end-to-end IT infrastructure services, along with our developed ecosystem with OEMs, VARS and MSPs, that led us to be the prime choice in the selection process. We are confident in providing a strong product distribution channel for EMC's HBA product line and we will strive to deliver quality services to support their customers' growing businesses."

Ed Flachbarth, President, Procurri adds: "Our partnership with EMC echoes our commitment to expand our global multi-platform hardware range and expertise to make our inventory and services accessible to anyone, anywhere, through a local, single point of contact. As one of the world's leading IT distributors and an authorized distributor of EMC, we will continue to drive growth of the HBA product line through our fast-growing channel network."

Globally, Procurri offers services in IT distribution and asset recovery, hardware maintenance, infrastructure-as-a-service, data centre relocation and other lifecycle services.
